I am an internationally recognized musician, composer and producer, renowned for my original approach to developing music for films, documentaries, and theatre plays. My work is distinguished by a unique blend of contemporary electronic music and traditional sounds, with a strong focus on innovative sound design. Some of my compositions have received prestigious awards, further solidifying my reputation in the industry.

Since 1985, I have operated sound studios in Athens, Berlin, London, and Rovereto, collaborating with diverse artists and production teams worldwide. My passion lies in merging the evocative melodies of Asia Minor, the Mediterranean, and particularly the Aegean region—where my roots originate—with electronic music. I expertly integrate traditional musical instruments such as the Baglamas and the Santoor with hardware electronics, crafting immersive sonic experiences that transcend space, time, and cultural boundaries.

My film scoring portfolio includes notable works such as 'Manali Cream' by Navdeep Kandola (Channel 4 Films), 'Dersaadet Apartmani' by Tankut Kilinc (award-winning feature film), and 'L'aereoplano di Marinetti' (RAI), among others. I have also been deeply involved in the sound design of various educational documentaries, national & International campaigns for the promotion of health sponsored by the European commission and the Italian ministry of health and cultural initiatives, collaborating with Cultural Centres, Theatres, and Universities across the globe.

Currently based in Rovereto, I am engaged in producing soundtracks for films and podcasts for the University of Trento, while continuing my independent music production work. My dedication to originality and artistic exploration has earned me an international following and critical acclaim.
